beverage purposes or with any profit to the persons who intend to sell, barter or exchange the same, looking to the ultimate enactment whereby possession of intoxicating liquors for any purposes shall be unlawful.

(b) An amendment making it the duty of the municipal mayors and police to enforce the state law, whether the municipality has an ordinance on the subject or not; and providing further for the removal of any officer of the law, including such municipal officer, who shall in any way refuse, neglect or make any default in the strict enforcement of the state law; and providing further a speedy, summary, effective remedy for the removal of any officer, including such municipal officers who shall fail, neglect or in any way default in the enforcement of the state prohibitory laws.

4. That the denomination pledges itself to work for National prohibition and requests our Senators and Representatives in the National Congress to do all in their power to bring about the submission so that the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors shall be unlawful in the Nation.

5. That the denomination commends the faithful and efficient work of such organizations as the Woman's Christian Temperance Union and the Anti-Saloon League of West Virginia and promises to them co-operation and support of the denomination.

true, the persons who extracted the promises would each be entitled to a decoration of the state of West Virginia to be conferred by a Judge of a criminal court.

Verse one and two can certainly be written down as "piffle." They do not contain the reason why the Republican party has lost such a desirable member as Mr. Vinson, or why Hall, Houston, McKell, and Lilly have conspired to secure the defeat of Judge Robinson.

Verse "three" provides that Grant Hall should be made chairman of the Republican State Executive committee. Verse "four" that Abe Lilly would be made temporary chairman of the State convention at Huntington, his speech to have been O. K'd by Judge Robinson.

A great many Republicans would like to know whether Grant Hall is attempting to defeat Judge Robinson because he (Hall) was not made chairman of the Republican State committee. His peculiar fitness for the position probably entitled him to it, but a man of sufficient calibre and size to be made chairman of that important committee ought to be too large to get so close and refuse to play because it was not handed to him.

It is thought Marcum has given a rather childish reason for the disloyalty of Hall, and one of which Grant must be somewhat ashamed. Had he not been already disloyal to the Republican party, it is hard to believe that the failure to secure a coveted chairmanship would have driven him to support the Democratic nominee. It is hardly likely that the Democratic party will hand him chairmanship of any kind.

Many of Grant Hall's friends would have been delighted to have seen him chosen chairman of the Republican State committee, and would have endeavored to have brought about that result had it not been for the fact that he had been openly and avowedly against the Republican party for the past several years, and not a member of that organization.

That Abe Lilly would have presided with dignity and read with much eclat his extemporized speech, no one questions. That he was not chosen chairman of that body must have been somewhat of a disappointment to him; but "Honest Abe" can give more honest reason for his betrayal of the Republican party than that furnished him by Marcum in verse four of the Huntington filiation. A great many friends of Generally Lilly will be disappointed at his open conspiracy with Vinson to defeat Judge Robinson, simply because he (Lilly) was not made chairman of a convention which neither Judge Robinson nor any other "one" or "twenty" men did or could control.

If Lilly and Hall cannot excuse their personal acts because of a disappointment of their ambitions, what must be said of Taylor Vinson? Does a man in West Virginia, white, black or "neutral," believe in one moment that Z. T. Vinson is knifing Judge Robinson because Grant Hall was not made chairman of the Republican State committee, and Abe Lilly was not made chairman of the late Republican convention held at Huntington? If any such Republican exists, he ought to pluck a few of the feathers out of the wings of his imagination and replenish the denuded tail of his judgment. Believe me, Taylor has a more substantial reason for betraying the Republican party. As an expert betrayer of that organization, with a long record behind him, we can assure you that Taylor never gets out of the party fold except on a "satisfactory arrangement."

The remaining items in the Huntington fiasco, except wherein they are too silly for enjoyment really become funny. Judge Robinson is to be knifed and defeated because he and Lilly, with some of Lilly's friends—of course some of Lilly's friends meant Z. T. Vinson, Grant P. Hall and J. H. Marcum—were not permitted to write a platform and force it down the throats of the convention held at Huntington. This platform was to studiously ignore Governor Hatfield and his administration. Every Republican in the state knows that long before the time of this alleged conference in New York, the delegates had been chosen—the Republican convention at Huntington. Judge Robinson was busy in his own campaign, and did not even participate in the selection of the delegates from his home county. He had no part in selecting the delegates to that convention.

It is also a well-known fact that the chief work of that convention was to choose two candidates for the Supreme Court of Appeals of the state. That being the case, it was generally believed expedient by the members of the Republican party that a convention should be made up largely of the members of the bar of the highest standing throughout the state, in so far as it was practicable to do so. We venture the assertion that the delegates to the Republican convention at Huntington, regularly chosen and accredited to that convention, comprised at least four-fifths of the Republican members of the bar in the State of West Virginia engaged in the active practice of the law. None but a fool would assert that Judge Robinson and Z. T. Vinson combined, or the entire Vinson combination, could control and dominate that convention, or could have rammed a ready-made platform down its throat.

The pretense that Judge Robinson promised, or conspired with Abe Lilly Taylor Vinson and Grant Hall to attempt to dominate that convention is an insult not only to every intelligent Republican in the state, but to Taylor Vinson's quartette. They should learn to sling another time, rather than harp upon acts, which, if true, disclose that they were willing to unite with Judge Robinson to attempt to dominate the convention in order to further their own peculiar ideas of party action.

The remaining charge is that Judge Robinson agreed that Hatfield would bolt the ticket. Now, honest! Taylor, do you believe that Judge Robinson agreed that anybody would bolt the ticket? If so, how did you expect him to carry out that agreement? You are a good enough lawyer to know that when a man agrees that anything will be done, he covenants to cause that thing to be done. What plan did you outline in the alleged conference, or what were you to do in the event that Governor Hatfield refuse to bolt, and still insist on voting the Republican ticket, as he had been doing in the past?

Now, being an expert "bolter" yourself, won't you explain to the Republicans of West Virginia just how Judge Robinson was to carry out the alleged agreement that Hatfield was to bolt? Let the Republicans of the State have a nice long article from you on the subject of bolting. Such an article cannot be but enlightening, and the benighted Republicans who have in the past supported their party, will thus learn how they can successfully work against it while pretending to be furthering its aims.

The efforts of these six Republicans (also "devoted" friends of coal miners and laboring men generally) by the way to defeat Judge Robinson will not have achieved that to which they are by every consideration entitled until some real sporty Republican shall set them to music and have the "Vinson Quartette" sing them in every county seat in West Virginia.

We name Z. T. Vinson as orchestra leader, and there is no reason why the harmonious Hall should not do the stunt of composing the music.

ARMENIAN RELIEF GETS A BIG CHECK

Man Who Came to Give $5,000 Increased it to $18,000.

(Special Dispatch to West Virginian)
NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—A well dressed but unassuming man walked modestly into the office of the American Committee for Armenian and Syrian Relief, 70 Fifth Avenue, New York City, one day this week and inquired for the secretary. He named a middle west state as his home and said he had been thinking about making a contribution on "Armenian Sunday," Oct. 22, to help the Armenian refugees in Turkey but had concluded from what he had read in the newspapers, that money is badly needed now.

"I can give $5,000," he said, "but I would like to hear something about the facts." The assistant secretary of the committee, Walter Mallory, summarized the situation in accordance with information which had been received in recent letters and cablegrams. One of the facts stated by Mr. Mallory is that there are about a million Armenian and Syrian Christian refugees in Turkey and Persia largely women and children nearly all of whom are destitute. Deported from their homes by Turkish soldiers, many thousands are suffering for the lack of the bare necessities of life. Then he began to tell of sacrifices which contributors to the relief fund had made.

The visitor listened to the story of a minister in Ohio, who had written that, from a salary of eighty dollars a month, his wife and himself would contribute forty dollars a month for six months. "Well," said the stranger, "if they can make a sacrifice like that I think I can give $10,000." On the way to the office of Charles R. Crane, the treasurer, the donor was told of an old woman who wrote she had no money but would give her old Paisley shawl—an heirloom which had been in the family many years and had once been her mother's. He listened also to a letter from the mother of a little girl, four years old, who had earned two cents sweeping the sidewalk. She wanted to give one cent to the starving Armenians. "If other people are willing to give up things," commented the stranger, "I ought to be willing to do the same. I think that every one ought to help save this old Christian race. I believe I can give $15,000."

Before he entered the treasurer's office the stranger seemed to make some mental calculations and when he wrote out his check it read $18,000.

Under no circumstances is my name to be made public," said the stranger, so the treasurer, to keep faith, personally deposited the check in the bank.

Crushed Coal In Smelting.
A new method of utilizing coal in competition with oil fuel is being tried at Vancouver. Those conducting the experiments claim that crushed coal can be supplied to steam-producing furnaces by the same method that oil is utilized. The new process is of special interest to British Columbia, as it is proposed to apply it for smelting purposes in the big mining plants of the Province. It is claimed that seven tons of copper ore can be smelted with one ton of coal by this process, whereas formerly the ratio was a ton of coal to a ton of ore.
